

Safe Patient Handling Risk Assessment

Customized strategies designed to keep your employees and patients safe

Musculoskeletal injuries are the most frequent type of injury experienced by healthcare workers, negatively affecting your injury costs, employee recruitment, and retention. More importantly, the lack of an effective program can impact patient safety.

Whether your interest is driven internally or by legislative initiatives, you are likely struggling with two questions: where do I start and whom do I trust? Atlas helps you answer both of those questions.

We Assess Risk

Atlas evaluates your operations from multiple angles, including:

- An OSHA 300 3-year normalized analysis to understand historical risk
- A survey of employee discomfort to understand current risk
- A survey of employee knowledge to understand general competency
- A survey of employee methods-of-choice and cause to understand facility and/or cultural barriers
- A survey of the culture to understand your organization's mind set
- An analysis of each unit or department (capacity, dependency, current inventory, bariatric needs, special circumstances, etc.) to define specific needs and challenges

Risks come in all shapes and sizes, and some aren't obvious. Atlas understands how to uncover all your risks and help you reach your goals.

We Define Solutions

Atlas uses our findings to create a comprehensive report that gives you a roadmap for your investment strategy or suggestions for a pilot program. The report includes:

- A prioritization of units/departments and tasks by risk
- Purchase quantity recommendations and a ROI analysis
- The current state of your organization's competency and culture
- Implementation recommendations with extensive references to "best practices" and research

Atlas provides you a clear path to success, based on the most extensive data analysis available in the industry.

Honest, Affordable Assessment

Unlike many consultants who work on commission, Atlas does not sell products, nor do we receive commissions. We give you data-driven risk assessments and solutions. Because we aren't selling a product, we give you a complete picture of your risks and what you need in order to reduce those risks. No product recommendations. No gimmicks. Just unbiased, fact-based advice.
